A further amendment provides that the inspectors of election shall furnish the State Superintendent of Elections with a complete copy of each day's registration list on the day of such registration, together with all answers made and information given by the person registered.

Senator Marks of New York to-day introduced a resolution calling upon the Judiciary Committee to report on the necessity for legislation to provide for the distribution of the surplus of $200,000,000 held by life insurance commanies. His resotribution of the surplus of $200,000,000 held by life insurance companies. His reso-lution also asks for recommendations as to the desirability of having yearly reports from the companies showing how a sur-plus has been earned, whether the manner in which insurance companies have used their surplus should be investigated and whether policyholders are receiving their just dues.

As soon as the resolution had been read Senator Ambler, the chairman of the In-surance Committee, asked that it be referred to that committee. Senator Marks ob-jected and insisted that it was a matter for made at once by the New York city authorities to effect a compromise with the representatives of the Hudson River counties who are opposed to New York city going into these counties for the purpose of acquiring a water supply. Corporation Counsel John J. Delany to-day had conferences with Assemblymen Yale of Putnam, J. T.

Smith of Dutchess and Wainwright and Apgar of Westchester in regard to the matter, and Mr. Delany appeared at a joint hearing before the Senate and Assembly Cities Committees and the Assembly Elec-tricity, Gas and Water Supply Committee tricity, tas and water Supply Committee this afternoon to urge favorable action on the Mayor's water bill.

The result of the hearings will undoubtedly be that an amended bill which will permit New York city to acquire a water supply from the Hudson River counties will be passed. The Senate Cities Committee to receive night will hold an executive session.

passed. The Setate Cities Committee to-morrow night will hold an executive session and the water question will come up at that time. Meantime Corporation Counsel De-lany will try to effect a compromise.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.-Representative Sulzer took the National City Bank fight to the President this morning. He told ought to take steps immediately to vacate the lease to the bank of the old Custom House in New York.

What the President said in reply is not quoted, but after coming from the White House Mr. Sulzer said: The bank agreed to pay $3,265,000 for the Custom House and the Government agreed to pay an annual rental of $130,600. At the present rate of progress on the new Custom House it will not be long before the Standard Oil interests get back all that they agreed to pay for the old property. What interests me is the fact that the city is being mulcted of $200,000 a year in taxes by the oil octopus. The property has taxes by the oil octopus. ### PLANS FOR INAUGURATION.

SETH BULLOCK AND THE NEGRO CAVALRY IN WASHINGTON.

First Comers of the Crowd That Will Fill power of the Superintendent in the matter the City—High Prices for Windows of his inspection of lodging houses and Along the Line of March—Many Stands hotels by inserting the following provision Going Up-Decorations for the Ball.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.-Washington cannot be said to be thrilling with excitement over the preparations for the inauguration. Still the city is getting busier every minute. and the preparations are being pushed rapidly to a conclusion.

The streets are beginning to fill up slightly with arrivals for the fourth, and even an unenlightened stranger could see that something unusual was going on. The something is not beautiful up to date, but in the law:

It shall be the duty of the deputies at all times when directed by the Superintendent to visit every building, tenement house, apartment house, hotel, lodging house, or any other premises where one or more persons reside, and interrogate any inmate, house dweller, caretaker, keeper, owner, proprietor, lessee or landlord thereof as to any person residing or claiming to reside therein, require every landlord, house keeper or proprietor to exhibit his register of lodgers at any time to such deputy and to keep an accurate list and count of all male persons calaming to be or apparently over the age of 21 who reside therein, and from time to time throughout the year to visit the said premises and note all the changes with reference to the said occupants and residents that may occur, to the end that there shall be a complete record in the office of the State Superintendent of Elections of all persons over the age of 21.

The bill gives the chief clerk and deputies Throughout the line of the parade from the President that the Attorney-General the Capitol to Washington Circle, a distance of nearly three miles, the bare skeletons of stands are growing around the Federal buildings and on the public parks. There will be seating capacity for about 200,000 people along the line of march exclusive of the windows, which are already commanding big prices.

The hotels that are fortunate enough to be situated on the line of march apparently want all of the strangers' money and want it all at once without the trouble of a second call. One unwary outsider recently dropped into a second class hostelry on the route of the parade and innocently asked the price of a front room for the day.
He was told that every one of them had been booked by Christmas, but the information was thrown in that the best had brought $200. That rental is nominally for a week, but as a matter of fact the room is only desired for a single day.

The Government clerks will be accommodated on the stands around their respective buildings at a considerably more mod-tive buildings at a considerably more mod-erate figure. A dollar or two will buy a seat on one of the Government stands: but the private stands will command rather The inaugural committee says that each. The inaugural committee says that especial precautions have been taken to prevent seats falling into the hands of speculators; but unless human nature has changed in the last four years there probably will be a number of more or less honest dollars earned in that way. Howe er, a bad day for the parade bites the speculator

PORTO RICAN IMPROVEMENTS. House of Delegates Authorizes a Loan of

84,000,000 fer Them. pectal Cable Despatch to THE SUN San Juan, Feb. 28.-The House of Delegates has unanimously passed a bill authorizing a loan of $4,000,000 for public improvements. Island banks will be the depositories of the loan, and they will be allowed to extend loans to agriculturists from unspent improvement funds. The Executive Council favors the bill.

The strikes on the sugar plantations in various parts of the island have practically ended. In most cases the employees received a slight advance in wages. Some of the planters refused to make any concessions and the men returned at their former wages. In a number of cases the failure of the strikers was due to unemployed farm laborers taking their places. The laborers had no organization to support them.
